

Iloff Course Schedule: Iloff Spring 2020 afternoon -times.pdf

IST 2235 2 -- Master s Recital (RS)

Master's Recital - 0 credits

Ted Vial

The masters recital allows graduating students in the professional masters' degrees to reflect upon and synthesize the learning that they have experienced throughout their degree program. Engagement with concrete situations, such as case studies and current events, will provide opportunities to connect classroom learning to professional settings. Students will also have the opportunity to name their vocational hopes and directions with their peers and faculty, and participate in other communal conversation and celebration as their degree draws to a close. This is a requirement for graduation for all graduates, as it serves as the primary means for gathering learning outcomes assessment data for our accrediting body.

IST 2077 1 -- Introduction to Judaism (RS)

Introduction to Judaism - 4 credits

Pam Eisenbaum

W 01:00–04:30PM

Bacon 212

description coming

IST 3013 1 -- Kierkegaard & Existentialist Theology (RS)

Kierkegaard & Exist. Theo - 4 credits

Jeremy Garber

W 01:00–04:30PM

Duncan Board Room

Kierkegaard and the origins of existentialism; twentieth-century forms of existentialism and recent developments; the decline of neo-orthodoxy and resurgence of phenomenology. (RLGN 4621)

IST 3116 1 -- Caring w Oppressed Latinamente (RS)

PC Latinamente - 4 credits

Ruben Arjona Mejia

T 01:00–04:30PM

Duncan Board Room

This course explores Latinx perspectives on the understanding and practice of care with oppressed individuals and communities. Close attention is given to the relevance of Liberation Theology for pastoral care. Other relevant topics include pastoral accompaniment, community and family, and the notions of mestizaje and lo cotidiano (daily life experience).