IST 2162 1 -- The Life of Prayer (RS)

Life of Prayer - 2 credits

Cathie Kelsey

This course will have you study the life of prayer as if it were a river, studying it by getting in and swimming, by experiencing it with many senses, giving yourself over to it. Only then, but surely then, it will have you reflecting theoretically and practically on what you have experienced.

IST 2252 1 -- Ethics in an Age of Plagues, Pestilence, & Pandemics (RS)

Elective Course - 4 credits

Miguel De La Torre

The world is gripped by a deadly pandemic. This is neither the first time, nor probably will be the last. What we do know is in the aftermath of such deadly epidemics, the societal bonds which once held community together are frayed if not completely broken as radically changes take hold and new ways of being arise. This course will wrestle with the importance of maintaining a moral compass during crisis and an ethical vision as a new reality is constructed. Special attention will be given to how not all suffer equally, and the role racism, classism, and sexism during national emergencies. Finally, the course would assist the student in finding their own ethical voice during a time of hopelessness and desperation.

IST 2270 1 -- Colonialism and Complexities of Indigenous Identities (RS)

Elective Course - 4 credits

Lisa Dellinger

IST 3250 1 -- Jesus for Christians & Non Christian (RS)

Elective Course - 4 credits

Jeremy Garber

Who is Jesus of Nazareth, and what is his relationship to Jesus Christ? This course will examine this central question in multiple religious and non-religious cultural contexts. We will use the methods of comparative theology to read ideas about Jesus in the context of Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Paganism, Spiritual But Not Religious (SBNR), and non-theistic texts. Students will compare and contrast these ideas to create their own understanding of Jesus' narrative and his relationship to our present world in their particular context.
